

Robert Clancy

Short Bio

Robert Clancy is a dedicated volunteer who completely embodies the spirit of service—a selfless commitment to helping others make a positive difference in the world.

Robert Clancy is an entrepreneur, inspirational speaker, ordained minister and published author from the heart of upstate New York. He is co-founder and Managing Partner of Spiral Design Studio—one of the largest full service graphic design and web development firms in the Northeast.

Over the past 24 years, Robert and Lauren Payne, his wife and business partner, have nurtured their dedication to exceptional, effective design and innovative technology while making community service an everyday reality within their business. Balancing his corporate commitments with his lifelong compassion for humanity, Robert supports ongoing volunteerism within his business and his everyday life.

Robert's first published work is The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Soul, an evocative collection of inspirational stories and transcendental journeys that will transform the way you think about community service while bringing deeper meaning to your career path and your life.
